#Meghalaya | In a significant move to enhance agricultural connectivity in the North Eastern Region, Union Minister of Communications and Development of the North Eastern Region (DoNER) Jyotiraditya M. Scindia today launched 'NERACE app' in Shillong.

This initiative paves the way for enhanced agricultural connectivity in the North Eastern Region, set to unite 50,000 farmers and 5,000 buyers in the next five years.

Taking it to X, the minister wrote, "Delighted to launch NE-RACE App - an online global platform for North East Farmers, which will play a pivotal role in positioning the North-East as a hub of high value horticultural products."

"It will make the farmers of the region not just the producers but also as a reliable partner in the international agri value chain." Says Scindia.

The North Eastern Region Agri-Commodity e-Connect (NERACE) app serves as a unified digital platform designed to connect farmers with global markets, facilitating direct transactions and price negotiations. It includes a multilingual helpline (English, Hindi, Assamese, Bengali, Nepali, Khasi, Mizo, and Manipuri) and integrates farmers and sellers, thereby enhancing agricultural connectivity across North East India.
